Introducing

Your

1963

Acorn

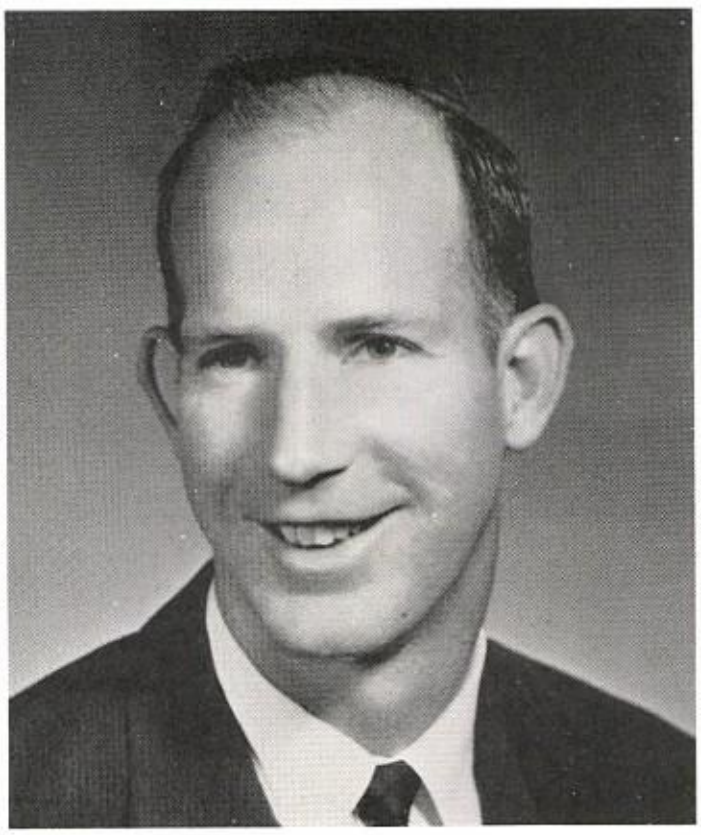
Foreword

Shakespeare said, "All the world's a stage." As members of the Deport School, our part played upon that stage this year has been, in spite of a few acts we would change were we to play the parts again, rich and satisfying.

As you are aware, it is impossible to record every scene, but the staff has worked with the idea in mind to get a representative view of the moments of gaiety and excitement, tensions and anxiety - - and certainly to preserve the highlights of the 1963 September-to-May drama of your school life.

Dedication

MRS. CHARLES MARTIN



MR. WELDON HUME

In appreciation for their friendly, constant, capable service in guiding us in the vocational field, we dedicate the 1963 Acorn to Mrs. Charles Martin and Mr. Weldon Hume.

LLOYD SIMMONS, SUPERINTENDENT

Deport, Texas

It is again that time of the year when we think over the past year's accomplishments in school. I am sure that you, as students, and your parents are aware of the importance of a good education. But education in itself will not assure success and happiness. There are many other factors that enter in--when we think of the ingredients that make for success and happiness.

There was once a man who was obsessed with the idea that there was a secret known to those who achieved success. To discover this secret, he devoted years to study and research. Ancient Masonry, philosophy, astrology, psychology, salesmanship, religious beliefs, the various cults that have had their rise and fall--all these he studied long and diligently. Finally he gave his conclusion, and it came in two short words: "I will."

Many of the tales we hear about Lincoln, Edison, and others, when analyzed, dwindle down to the ability to work hard. These men labored long into the night and diligently throughout the daylight hours mastering problems that stood between the cru de mechanisms and utilities of their time and the comforts and conveniences of today.

I hope that you have spent long hours of hard work this past year because, in so doing, you have found the formula for a happy and successful life in the future. The people that I have found most successful in life are those who are cheerful and hopeful--those who have gone about their business with smiles on their faces--those who have taken chances of their mortal life like men, facing rough and smooth alike as it came, thus witnessing to the old proverb that good times and bad times and all times pass over.

Sincerely,

Lloyd Simmons

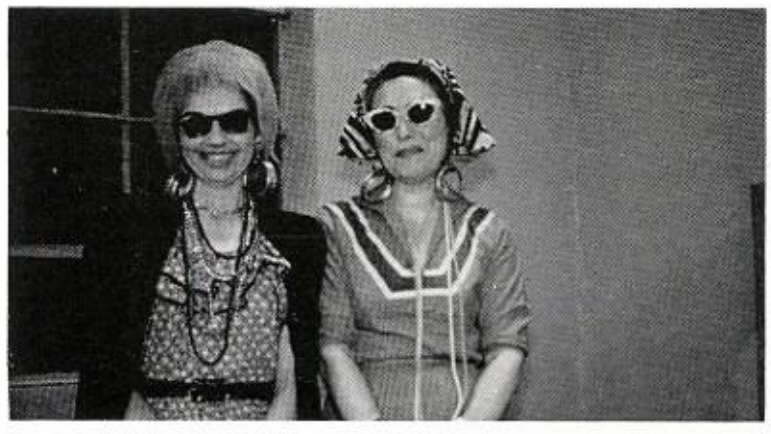
Activities

Sammy's selfish today; he has to have two girls.

Two cute "old-fashioned" girls enjoying the sun.

P.T.A. serves refreshments.



Anybody for their fortune?

Nothing is better than coke on the floor.

Karen, couldn't you find a spoon?

Three dirty Senior girls.

In a hurry to go home.

Activities

Well, that's one way of saving water during a freeze.

What excuse do you have this time, Karen?

Mrs. Martin giving the boys a few tips about girls.

Hey, look what I built!

I guess that will teach you to pay attention next time, Robert.

Para las Muchachas la fiesta

Mildred, were there tears in your eyes?

First graders greeting their new classmate, Frosty.

Activities

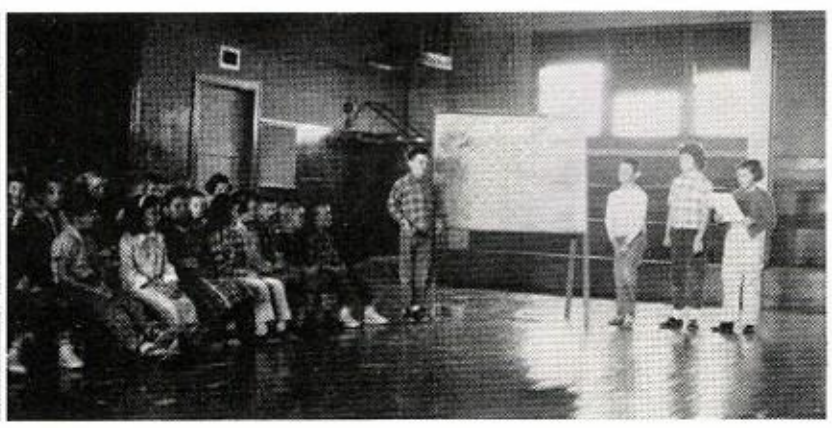
Seniors selecting graduation announcements.

Western Day Belles

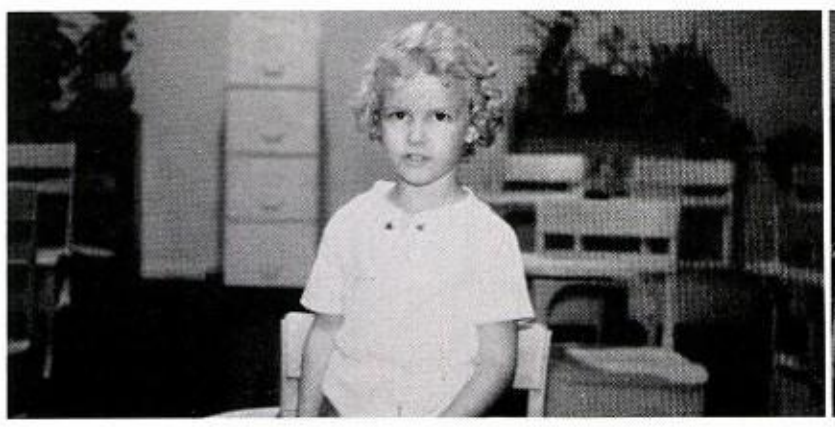
Mary and Carol working on the annual.

The first and second grades present a P.T.A. program.

Anna Beth and Larry trying to take off in Miss McIntosh's car.



Practicing for a P.T.A. program

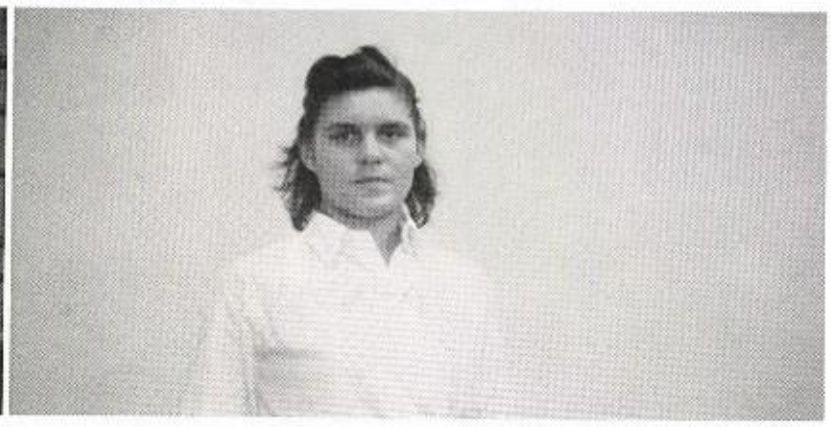


Mrs. Martin's doll.

End of a perfect day.

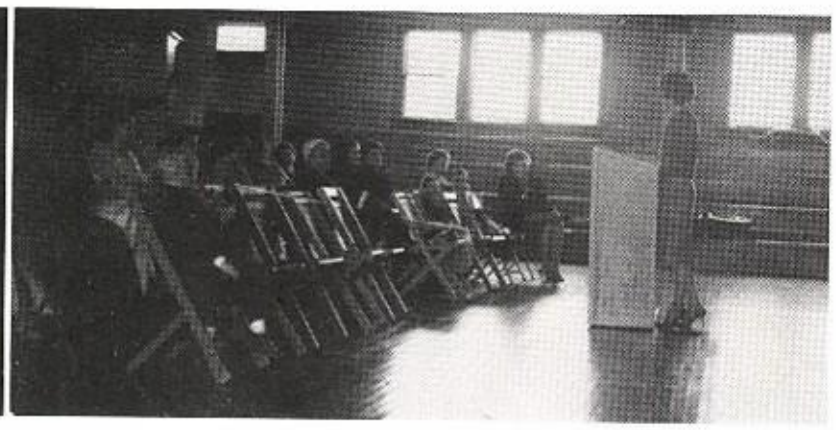
Activities

Deport High's two chimpanzees



Ruth Ann acts as guinea pig for photographer

At first high school party



Mrs. Wright presides at P.T.A.

Homemaking II girls prepare a salad

Rita Kay in the process of making a pianist.

Leading sellers

Tomorrow's Hercules

Activities

Everyone was supposed to have been looking at the teacher.

Maria and Jimmy are interested in world events.

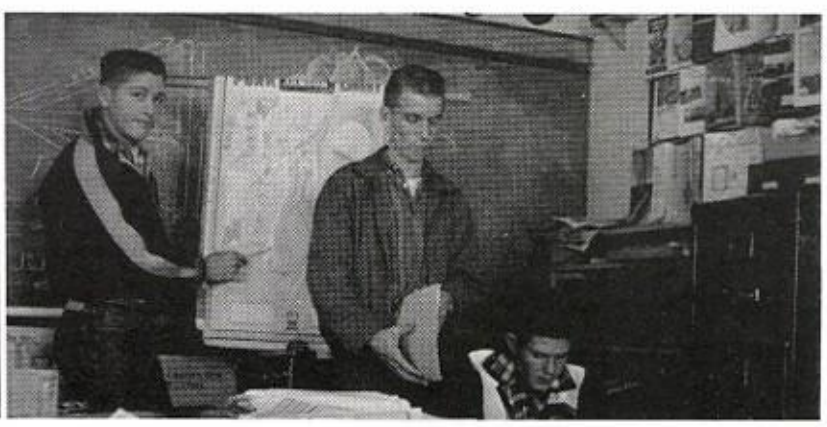
These are tomorrow's freshmen.

Rexine, what is behind that hand?

Nora and friend Dictionary.

Yes, Karen, the camera works.

A picture without a caption.



The freshmen learn their meats.
